—Herald.—Messrs. Dobson and Fry, of the contracting firm of Dobson, Jackson, and Fry, tendered a banquet last evening in the Commercial hotel, Calgary, to a number of civil engineers and friends in Calgary and Edmonton. It was a very enjoyable affair. The table was well laden with good things. After doing justice to the spread, many kindly references were made to the hosts, Mears, Fry and Dobson. The testimonies were alike, that the gentlemen mentioned were shrewd business men, capable of carrying to successful completion any of the large works which they undertook. W. T. Ashbridge, who has superintended the installation of the waterworks and sewerage plants at Edmonton, spoke highly of the energy with which Mr. Fry hustled his work in Edmonton.

ST. ANDREW'S BANQUET

SCOTCHMEN HONOR THEIR PATRON SAINT

Edmonton Scotchmen Hold An Enthusiastic and Successful Banquet Last Evening.

Edmonton Scotchmen right gladly honored their patron saint, St. Andrew, last night. The banquet was held in the Queens hotel and about one hundred enthusiastic Scotchmen and a few others who were not so favored, were present. The tables were laden with Scotch dishes of all kinds, from the Scotch broth to the bubbley jock, and the scones and oatmeal cakes. The haggis, about which so much has been said and sung, was done to perfection. The arrangements certainly reflected great credit on the management of the Queens hotel. Clark's orchestra discoursed splendid music and everything went merrily.

The Scottish societies in Edmonton sent the following telegrams yesterday evening:

was the haggis. The chairman repeated Burns' well-known address to the haggis and the banquet commenced.

Just before commencing the dinner the chairman read a letter from the Rev. D. G. MacQueen, chaplain of the local Scotch societies, who is conducting anniversary services at Ponoka, expressing his extreme regrets at not being able to be present with his brother Scotchmen on St. Andrew's night. The letter was received with cheers for the chaplain. At this point C. M. Tait took a flash light photograph of the gathering.

The toast list and program then commenced and was as follows:

The King. "God Save the King."

Orchestra.

The Governor General and Lieutenant Governor—"For They are Jolly Good Fellows," and "The Maple Leaf Forever."

The Army, Navy and Auxiliary Forces—Responded to by Major R. Belcher and W. A. Griesbach.

Our sister toons—Responded to by Geo. W. Greene, Red Deer.

Our sister societies—responded to by Mr. Holloway, Sons of England; P. E. Lessard, St. Jean Baptiste; W. G. Abbott and Donald Ross, Old Timers.

In connection with the Old Timers' Society, a hearty toast was drunk to Kenneth McDonald, one of the very oldest of Edmonton Old Timers.

The Press—responded to by J. A. McKinnon, Bulletin, and J. W. Cunningham, Journal.

The Ladies—responded to by A. E. Jamieson, Dr. Nicoll.

Further mention of the speeches and songs is scarcely necessary. Never was a more successful St. Andrew's banquet held in Edmonton. The after dinner speeches were splendid. The many virtues of the Scots were extolled in speech and song. The orchestra was liberal with its music which was greatly appreciated.

V. W. Barford presided at the organ for the vocal selection. Last night everybody was Scotch or did his best to claim Scotch ancestry. H. Stuchbury gave a number of Scotch songs, which were received with great enthusiasm. Be good naturally responded to persistent encores. Splendid solo songs were sung by Messrs. H. W. Heathcote, Lee, Bellgrave, Savard, D. Ross, and a duet by Messrs. Stutchbury and Lee. The selections were all eminently suitable, a number of them being, WI' a Hundred Pipers and A' Scots, Who Ha', Bonnie Dundee, Blue Bonnets Over 'e' Border, The Cameron Men, A Wee Dram o' It, Loch Lomond and Bonnie Doon. A pleasing feature of the evening's program was a French song by L. Savard, by special request. It was a reminder of great many years ago when the Scotch and French fought side by side on many a bloody battlefield of the continent. Mr. Savard also sang in English. Mr. Percy F. Hook, of Red Deer, rendered an exceedingly fine selection on the piano which was accorded a great deal of applause. Towards the close of the program, the members of the old St. Andrew's Society, who were present, showed their brotherhood by voting a sum of twenty-five dollars to a Scotchman and who is in need. The gathering broke up in the wee sma' hours, after joining hands and enthusiastically singing Auld Lang Syne, which was followed by the singing of the national anthem.

Antelope, 1st October to 15th November.

Caribou, moose, elk, wapiti, deer, 1st December to 15th December in Eastern Assiniboin.

Otter, 1st November to 1st May. Muskrat, 1st November to 15th May.

Beaver is protected until 21st December, 1908.

The above open seasons are fixed by the new ordinance for the protection of game and include the first date but not the last mentioned.

DINWOODIE

Mr. Taylor recently arrived from Washington state, bringing with him a herd of horses, among which were two purebred Shire stallions. These animals are a valuable acquisition to the stock of the district. We understand that Mr. Taylor has settled about six miles from here.

T. S. Austin and friend passed through here the other day from the state of Washington en route to Birch Lake to secure homesteads. These settlers are of the right class, and more are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dinwoodie expect to spend Christmas with friends in Edmonton.

At the Farmers' Institute meeting at Beaver Lake, held under the auspices of the Vermillion Valley and Beaver Lake Agricultural Society, prizes were offered of ten dollars and five dollars for essays relating to agriculture. F. W. W. Fane J. P. secured first prize, subject, "The Farm Horse"; Jas. Steele was second; subject "Grain Growing." These Institute meetings should prove a great benefit to the new settlers coming in, to get some pointers from those who have lived here long enough to have learned something of the nature of the climate and soil.

Your correspondent learns that there is petition for a post office going the rounds in the South Birch Lake country. This is as it should be, as there is a large settlement down there and the nearest post office is twenty miles away.

Rev. W. A. Rae held services at Spring Creek last Sunday and Rev. Bradlaugh at Mrs. R. Pearce's, Dinwoodie post office. Presbyterian and Methodist services alternate at these places. This is as it should be, as there is room for all in this new country. Both denominations are busy making history for their churches in this new land.

A telegraph line to tap the Battleford and Edmonton line is badly needed into some point of the C. N.

R. survey. Much more business could be transacted with that facility. November 25th, 1903.

VEGREVILLE.

Mr. Trent, who has the management of the Lambert estate, has been here for several days past surveying eighty acres of this property into town lots. Several of the lots, we understand, have been already sold.

Mr. Ezra Cole and family returned from Edmonton this week. Mr. Cole was confined to the hospital for some time, and although much impaired in health, yet we hope that through time and by care he will be restored to perfect health.

Mr. Dennis' threshing outfit, which was idle for several days, has been repaired and has commenced work again.

Although from six to eight inches of snow is on the ground, sleighing is exceedingly poor, wagons and buggies being in general demand.

The people of Vegreville and vicinity purpose having a Christmas tree and entertainment on the evening of Dec. 24th. As this is the Christmas tree to be held in the Vermillion Valley, we hope that every effort will be put forth by all to make it a perfect success.

Mr. Jno. Fleming, who has been absent on a visit of friends to his former home in the States, returned home last week. He looks as though he had been well treated by his old friends.

November 25th.
